B. Sharkov

International Working Group for the JINR strategic long-range planning has been established 2016 under chairmanship of JINR Director in order to organize the elaboration of the Strategic Long Range Plan (SLRP) of JINR.

SLRP will represent the outcome of detailed scrutiny by international leading experts and will help focus the views of the scientific community on the most promising directions in the research fields of JINR and create the basis for funding agencies to provide adequate support.

Active discussions on SLRP are going on within all seven laboratories of JINR. Thematically oriented subgroups are shaped. Local conveners of the sub-groups are appointed. Laboratories posted on the JINR website the kick-off documents to trigger the discussions within the subgroups. Both laboratories FLNF and LRB presented work plans of respective subgroups for period until 2019.
