

Jury's recommendation on the award of the Bruno Pontecorvo Prize for 2020

129th session of the JINR Scientific Council 18-19 February 2021

The Bruno Pontecorvo Prize is awarded by the Joint Institute for Nuclear Research annually.

The prize was established in 1995 to commemorate Prof. Bruno Pontecorvo a pioneering neutrino physicist who worked for many decades at JINR

The International Jury

for Bruno Pontecorvo prize award is composed of the following members:

Samoil Bilenky

- JINR

Luciano Maiani

- Italy

Arthur McDonald

- Canada

Alexander Olshevskiy

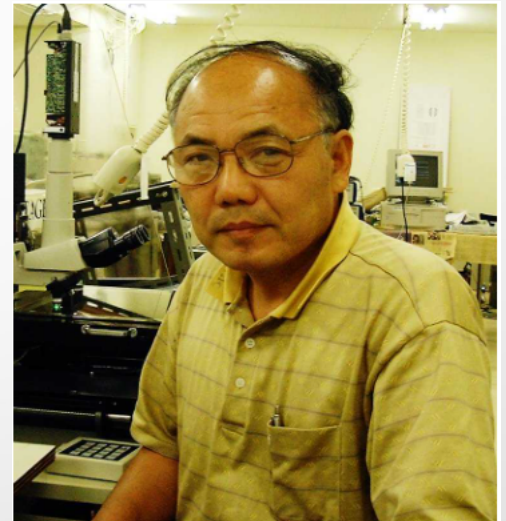

- JINR, Chairman

Yoichiro Suzuki

- Japan

The Jury has resolved to award
the Bruno Pontecorvo Prize
for 2020 to:

Professor NIWA Kimio
(Nagoya University, Japan)

For the development of the high-resolution nuclear emulsion technique, which led to identification of the tau neutrino and direct observation of tau neutrino oscillations

I am asking the Scientific Council to approve this recommendation